

*I hear babies cry; I watch them grow
They will learn more than I'll ever know
And I think to myself, what a wonderful world
— Louis Armstrong*

OBJECTIVE TO ATTAIN A HIGH SCHOOL MATH TEACHING POSITION

CONTACT Jeffrey Goldberg
1909 Edgewater Dr, Plano TX, 75075-8573
469 298-8613
jeffrey@goldmark.org
TEA ID: 1584154

EDUCATION COLLIN COLLEGE
Alternative Certification Program, Math 8-12 (August 2009–Present)
'Content Pedagogy' (Math 8–12) completed. 'Effective Teaching Practices' completed. 'Early Field Experience' and 'Pedagogy & Professional Responsibilities' completed. ASCD 'Differentiated Instruction' and 'Classroom Management: A Teacher Student Collaboration' completed. Student teaching to commence Spring Semester 2010.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY
PhD program in linguistics (1984–1987); degree not completed

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, SANTA CRUZ
Santa Cruz, California — BA in Linguistics with Honors 1984.

In addition to linguistics I studied the requirements for math and physics majors for nearly two years.

CERTIFICATIONS AND EXAMS

Anticipating Texas Mathematics 8-12 Certification and to be Highly Qualified per NCLB requirements by June, 2010.

Math 8-12 Content Examination passed October 31, 2009. Score 284.

PPR EC-12 Examination passed December 22, 2009. Score 298.

PROFESSIONAL MEMBERSHIPS

National Council of Teachers of Mathematics (student member since August 2009).

Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development (student member since September 2009).

Association of Texas Professional Educators (student teacher member since January 2010).

JEFFREY GOLDBERG

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

WITH ADULTS Assistant for undergraduate computer literacy course and for undergraduate remedial math course at UC Santa Cruz (1982-1984). Assistant for graduate courses in linguistics at Stanford (1985-1987). Taught advanced undergraduate linguistics courses in Hungary (1989-1994). Taught undergraduate computer introduction course in Hungary (1992). English as a second language tutoring in Hungary (1988-1994). C programming to masters students at Cranfield University, England (1998-1999).

WITH CHILDREN JUNIOR COUNSELOR and COUNSELOR IN TRAINING

Long Beach Jewish Community Center day camp, Long Beach California (1977)
Camp Komaroff, Lake Arrowhead, California (1978)

FATHERHOOD 1998-

PTA VOLUNTEER

Shepard Elementary PTA, Plano Texas (2005-2009)

Included Library volunteer, co-supervising Drama Club, assisted with other clubs. Edited weekly newsletter, (2007-2009). Chaperon at 5th Grade Camp (2008). Texas PTA Life Member award (2009).

WORK EXPERIENCE

SOLE PROPRIETOR

Goldmark Systems, Plano Texas

2005-2007

Goldmark Systems, Riverside California

2000-2005

Network consulting, email administration, firewall and security installations for small business.

COMMUNICATIONS PROGRAMMER

Cranfield University, Cranfield, Bedfordshire, England

1995-2000

From 1995-1996 I was an assistant information officer. I also provided documentation and training to staff and students on web technologies. In 1996, I became a communications/systems programmer where my responsibilities included setting up and maintaining the university's email servers and other systems.

INSTRUCTOR AND RESEARCHER

Loránd Eötvös University, Theoretical Linguistics Department, Budapest, Hungary

Linguistics Institute, Hungarian Academy of Sciences, Budapest

1988-1994

From 1988 I worked part time on various research and computation projects in the Theoretical Linguistics Group at the Research Institute of the Hungarian Academy of Sciences. From 1992 members of this group were finally allowed to teach, and we also became the Theoretical Linguistics Specialization at the Loránd Eötvös University, where I helped design the program and taught courses on computing and theoretical linguistics.

REFERENCES Available upon request.